French Secure Marked Gains in Local Fighting on Somme Front.

British Make Successful Raids Near Merville.

Artillery Activity Marked on all Sectors.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Whatever big move the Germans may be considering they are finding an active and alert foe confronting them.

The French official statement in particular fairly bristles with accounts of intense artillery and raiding activities and more important minor thrusts against the Germans in various sectors. In addition the latest Bavarian aviation report indicates such thorough command of the air that in one day's fighting 27 German machines were brought down while the British lost only six.

French troops figured in the most telling stroke delivered by the infantry last night in Flanders and south of the Somme.

In Flanders an operation was carried out which advanced the French lines somewhat in the region of Lore. British troops made a successful raid near Merville to the west of this area.

On the southern front the French bit into the German lines on the front between Montdidier and Noyon. An appreciable gain of ground was made here northwest of Orville's Sorrel, seven miles southeast of Montdidier.

American troops on the sector east of Toul assisted the French in a successful raid into the German positions in Apremont forest Friday. The American guns aided the French and east of the raided sector American patrols made a diversion by entering the village of Apremont which was found deserted.

Active artillery work is going on on some sectors of the Italian and Macedonian fronts. There also have been patrol engagements but no heavy fighting.

1300 000 MEN CALLED IN THE DRAFT

Now Over Seas or in Continental Camps of Country

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Washington, May 11.—More than 1,300,000 men have been called in the draft so far and either are in France in camp or under call to go into service before June 1st.

The total of 1,300,000 includes all men summoned in the May contingent. There is every indication that even a large increment will be summoned in June than in May and a progressive monthly mobilization continue throughout the summer and fall months as the cantonnements are expanded. It is expected at such a rate the army will reach full strength of well over three millions within 12 or 13 months.

It is possible some officers say the number will be closer to 5,000,000 than 3,000,000.

OLD CRUISER VINDICTIVE WENT BRAVELY TO LAST BERTH

Full Story of How Old Warship Was Sent Forward Under Fire of German Guns.

Patiently Commander Sought for the Harbor Channel Before Abandoning Ship.

Most Remarkably Daring Raid in History of British Navy.

(By Associated Press Cable)

London, May 11.—The old cruiser Vindictive went to her last berth 150 to 200 yards within the piers forming the entrance to the harbor of Ostend, one of the German submarine bases on the Belgian coast, under a terrific fire from the German naval guns and machine guns on the shores, according to the Central News.

Preparatory to the raid into Ostend the naval air force bombarded the town and dropped bombs continuously on the harbor works, causing fires. Later the airmen were assisted by destroyers and monitors in bombarding the enemy positions heavily.

The entire operation was carried out on similar lines to the raid of April 23 when concrete-filled cruisers were sunk in the harbor of Zeebrugge. For the second time in a month a smoke screen was used successfully. About two o'clock in the morning a large force of destroyers and coastal motor boats steamed up toward the shore, the motor boats going along side of it.

The Vindictive experienced the greatest difficulty in finding the entrance to the harbor. The enemy employed star shells and search lights, and for 20 minutes the vessel was in full view of the enemy batteries.

As she cruised up and down seeking the entrance she was hit repeatedly and several casualties were sustained. It was 2.20 when the piers were sighted almost alongside and then the German machine guns opened a fearful fire.

Having found his bearings the captain swung the cruiser around and rammed her stem against the eastern pier. He then discovered that the cruiser was aground aft, and that it was impossible to turn her any further. He called his crew from the engine room and stoke hold and then touched off explosive charges.

Airmen, according to the Central News report, says the Vindictive is lying submerged at an angle of 45 degrees or at the eastern entrance with her stem at the pier.

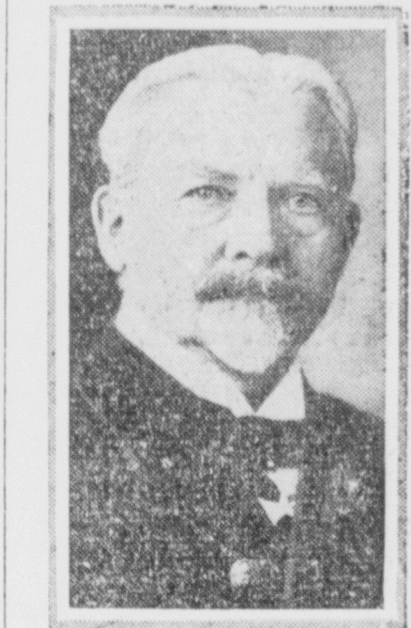

While the vessel was being abandoned two motor launches went along side and succeeded in bringing off the men including the wounded.

FOUR MEMBERS CO. M. WOUNDED IN ACTION

Sergeants William H. Buckley and Walter W. Gerlack Badly Wounded and Privates Wilmer H. Brown and Emmett Self Reported Slightly Wounded.

Greenfield Man Also in Today's Casualty List, While Company L. Suffers Five Casualties.

Two members of M Company, 166th Infantry, of this city have been seriously wounded in action in France, and two members have been slightly wounded.

The casualty list announced Saturday morning carries names of Sergeants William H. Buckley, formerly of this city, later of Newark; Walter W. Gerlack, of Mt. Sterling, listed as severely wounded, and a telegram received Friday evening by the parents of Private Wilmer H. Brown announced that he had been slightly wounded, April 14th.

A later casualty list on Saturday carried the names of Brown and Emmett Self, the latter of Mt. Sterling, as being slightly wounded.

It is believed that Sergeants Buckley and Gerlack and Private Self were wounded in action the first week of this month, probably about May 3rd, on which date Company L. of Lancaster, which is in the same battalion with Company M, had five men wounded.

Reports for the past day or two have indicated that the Rainbow Division has been in action in the front line trenches once more, and it is believed that the Fayette troops have now been in the trenches three times, the first time having one man slightly wounded, the second one slightly wounded, and the third time two wounded, severely, and one slightly.

Sergeant Gerlack is one of the volunteers obtained from Mt. Sterling, and Self also came from that neighborhood, his home being near Cooks. Saturday's casualty list also contains the name of Harry E. Rowe, of Greenfield.

Five members of L Company, in the same battalion with Company M, under the command of Major Houser of Chillicothe were wounded May 3rd and there is every reason to believe that M Company's casualties were sustained in the same action, which evidently was unusually severe.

The list of wounded in Company L included Captain Otto J. Kindler, and Lieutenant William Belhorn.

The Ohio troops had their first active service in the trenches in the latter part of February and early March; their second try at the Germans about the middle of April, and the third, it would appear about the first of this month. In all probability the Ohio troops or at least the battalion of which Company M. is a part, is once more back of the lines at rest.

Sergeant Buckley is Mes Sergeant of the local company, and a son of Chas. M. Buckley. Private Brown is actors and there is an entrancing ballet of 300 dancing girls. A thousand arenic sensations follow the spectacle on the main-tent program. There are great troupes of seals, dogs and monkeys that walk on tight ropes and ride horseback, herds of elephants in all new tricks; international athletes in feats of amazing strength; slides for life from tent-top to the ground by men suspended by hair and one—the great Hillary—who "jumps the gap" with skates attached to his head. The world's greatstars, such as May Wirth, who leaps from the ground to galloping steed with baskets tied to her feet, are presented in great number. There are twice as many clowns as before, a menagerie of 1,009 splendid animals and, to introduce the holiday an all new street parade three miles long.

ENTHUSIASTIC CROWDS HEAR EX-GOVERNOR WILLIS SPEAK

Afternoon Meeting Marred by Unfavorable Weather Conditions.

Lacked Nothing in Enthusiasm as Noted Speaker Delivered His Patriotic Utterances.

Be cause of the rain, Saturday afternoon, Former Governor Frank B. Willis spoke to a large audience in Memorial hall, instead of from the court house steps, delivering a patriotic address in support of the Fayette County War Chest campaign. Mr. Jess W. Smith introduced the distinguished speaker. Preceding his address the Whelpley Band rendered a number of patriotic airs. Memorial Hall was decorated in the national colors for the meeting.

The former governor was frequently interrupted by applause as his remarks appealed to the patriotism of the audience.

The former Governor said in part: "The fact that this War Chest campaign so put in motion so soon after the Liberty Loan, both have been so gloriously won is symbolic of the high purposes and fixed determination of the American people. We are united as never before in our history. Men and women of all parties and creeds are a unit in support of the President's announcement that our force is to be used to the utmost against the foe of freedom and that this is to be a war to the finish.

"Prussia's finish while differing among ourselves as to domestic policies, we present a united front to the enemy, arrogant, blood-thirsty Prussia, warring subdued, the old Germany with its Kultur, has set out to overthrow free institutions in the world; having broken treaties, violating international law, planted arbitration, pillaged churches, massacred the defenceless, murdered babies and violated women, it now undertakes to overthrow Christianity itself and establish in its place a new religion, founded on force.

"A Prussian seer and publicist in the following language clearly sets forth the Prussian aims. "The German people will have become their own God. The only great person is He who has power, and uses it. Such is the brutal sacrilegious gospel of might. It aims at the overthrow of every fundamental of American Liberty and the destruction of every institution founded on good morals and the might of right.

"This then is Prussia's program of conquest and Kultur. America's last man and last dollar must be sacrificed if need be to defeat it. "Prussia ridicules our aims, but it will respect our hits; its power must now be crushed, not with arguments, but with armies and our armies are as invincible as our arguments are answerable. Our country is at war; he who is not for it, is against it; there is no middle ground, patting with Prussian peace proposals would strengthen the Kaiser more than twenty new vandal divisions. Let us dedicate all that we are or have, ever hoped to be, to back up our fighters in Flanders. In this critical hour, let us do our part so well, that future generations may not have to lament that we failed or faltered."

EAST END WINS HONOR FLAG IN BIG PATRIOTIC MEETING

Three Stirring Meetings in Interest of Fayette County War Chest Held in City School Houses.

Strong Appeals Are Made and Great Enthusiasm Is Displayed at Each Session.

Three stirring patriotic meetings were held in the various school buildings of the city, Friday night, and East End school easily won the coveted honor flag given by the Fayette County War Work Council for the best attendance and which was presented during the meeting by Chairman M. S. Daugherty and received amid storms of applause.

The attendance at the various school buildings was: East End, 650; Sunnyside, 391; Cherry Hill, 258.

The object of the meetings was to increase interest in the coming War Chest for Fayette county, and in the support of the war in general. More patriotic meetings were probably never before held in the city, as the interest was intense and patriotic fervor apparent on every hand.

At East End the success of the big meeting was the result of the efforts of Miss Gertrude Channel and her corps of assistants, who wanted the honor flag and worked untiringly to win it.

The first part of the program was devoted to patriotic songs, the music being under the direction of Miss Susan Putnam, and was fully appreciated. The youngsters taking part in the singing did so with a will, and indicated careful training.

Mr. Frank Bateman, of Middletown delivered the first address, telling of conditions in the war zone as he had been informed by men back from the battle fields of Europe.

Rev. David Barre next addressed the large audience, delivering a fine appeal for support of every phase of the war work in every way possible, and pointing out the unmistakable duty of every man, woman and child in backing the men in the trenches and helping win the war.

Ralph Kearney rendered a mandolin solo that was given hearty applause, after which Chairman M. S. Daugherty, of the War Work Council, walked in with the honor flag and in a short speech of praise for the interest manifested, presented the flag, amid great applause. The flag is highly prized by the entire school.

Mr. Henry Brownell, delivered the closing address, explaining the purpose of the Fayette County War Chest so that all might know exactly what the funds are to be used for, and how raised.

Each speaker and each number on the program received hearty applause.

At Cherry Hill the enthusiasm of the 258 persons present was in perfect keeping with the nature of the meeting, and there was every evidence that every man, woman and child is backing the boys in the trenches, and will not be lacking when the appeal is made for the Fayette War Chest.

Miss Corda McCafferty, and her corps of assistants, had prepared a splendid patriotic song service which formed part of the evening's program, the fourth, fifth and sixth entering into the singing with genuine patriotic spirit.

Rev. G. L. Hart, Hon. C. A. Reid and Prof. O. K. Probasco were the speakers, and each speaker was accorded the most careful attention and given an ovation by the patriotic citizens who heard him. The purposes of the War Chest were fully explained and the duty of all made very clear in the ringing words of the speakers. Patriotic fervor on the part of the audience was not lacking in the least. A solo by Miss Dorothy Parrott was greatly enjoyed.

At Sunnyside The Sunnyside school house was packed with citizens for the patriotic meeting, and entertainment part of the evening's program was presented by the pupils of the school, in the nature of patriotic songs and music. Mrs. Minnie Brown and her corps of teachers doing their part nobly.

Stirring speeches were made by Hon. Frank C. Parrott, Chairman M. S. Daugherty and Mr. Frank Bateman. Mr. Parrott delivered the chief address of the evening and his earnest words aroused deep enthusiasm. Every word of each speaker was received with deep interest, and with a show of patriotism that told without words of the loyalty of those who heard and their willingness to do their part and to do it promptly whether it be in giving to the War Chest fund or doing other work necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

Women Co-operate.

For the first time in the series of patriotic meetings the Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, which is working in conjunction with the War Chest committee, was represented, when Hon. Frank C. Parrott, presiding, called to the platform Mrs. Daniel H. Van Winkle, Fayette county chairman.

Gracefully and with much earnestness, Mrs. VanWinkle expressed the desire of the women of the county to co-operate for the overwhelming success of the coming drive. She referred to a recent magazine picture which has caused a great deal of comment. The picture portrayed a goddess-like woman in the garb of a Red Cross nurse, expressing in her face all the love and pity of the ages and holding in her arms a soldier.

The picture is called "The Greatest Mother of the World."

"Every woman is the mother of hearts and right now all women are mothers of the world. They are our sons who are fighting over there in France. Motherhood, and sacrifice have always gone hand in hand. What would we not do for our boys over there who are making the supreme sacrifices while we remain at home.

"We are soon to have the privilege of subscribing to the war chest in order to do the big thing for our boys. Let us not stop at just our quota, but make that quota two or three times as great. Nothing will so encourage our boys in Company M and others in France as to know that their people at home are backing them for everything possible."

Miss Edith Gardner head of the Red Cross Surgical Dressing Department, followed with a most interesting little talk on the importance of Red Cross work and its necessities.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the need of surgical dressings for the hospitals over there. The supply often runs out and until more can be secured excelsior must be used to staunch the wounds of soldiers injured in battle.

In Miss Kerrigan's room Miss Gardner explained a display of surgical dressings, beautifully made, and so great was the interest aroused that a number of cash donations were made for this department.

Victrola music was furnished and an informal reception was held in connection with the exhibit.

WAYNE TOWNSHIP SCHOOLS OBSERVE LAST DAY OF TERM

Big Picnic Dinner and Class Exercises Feature Final Day of School in Fayette's First Centralized Schools—Graduation Exercises Tonight.

The Wayne Township High School Class Day Exercises drew a large crowd to Wayne hall, at Good Hope, Friday afternoon and provided generous entertainment and interest for the assemblage. It was conceded throughout to be one of the best class days on school records, with each graduate doing admirably the work assigned.

The stage was banked with potted plants and flowers, the class colors, pink and green effectively used in the elaborate decorations. The High School colors, purple and gray, were also introduced.

The six graduates occupied the center of the stage and Supt. T. H. Everhart had the exercises in charge. The Girls' High School chorus, the opening number and, well rendered, was followed by prayer by Rev. C. L. Pfaltzgraf. A pretty piano duet was played by Misses Lela Mae Murphy and Frances Peppie.

The class numbers were delightfully charged with permanent humor and showing originality in thought. Miss Mary Arnold introduced them as Class President, followed by Miss Alpha Barr, Class Historian, Miss Marie Schriener, class prophetess;

Miss Grace Lyle, class orator; Miss Pearl Post, class lawyer; Miss Winnie White, Valedictorian, presented an excellent oration on "Spirit of True Progress."

The musical program also included a pleasing piano solo by Miss Alpha Barr; vocal solo by Miss Ilo Fountain; the popular "It's a Long Way to Berlin" and a beautiful vocal duet by the Misses Grace Lyle and Mary Arnold. The Farewell Song was effectively sung by the class after which the audience rose to sing in closing "The Star Spangled Banner."

The second Community Dance for the benefit of the Red Cross, Friday night at the I. O. O. F. Temple proved even a greater financial success than the first one and a particularly happy combination of dance and entertainment.

There was an immense crowd including a large number of spectators who were seated in the upper hall for the tableaux and exhibition dances and later enjoyed watching the dancing in the lower hall. Those who cared for square dances remained above.

The Odd Fellows had most generously turned over the entire Temple and members of the order gave assistance in every possible way. The Temple was splendidly adapted to the affair and its spaciousness took good care of the big crowd.

The stage at one end of the upper hall was fine for the patriotic tableaux put on by Mrs. Fred B. West, whose artistic talent showed in the graceful posing. They were most effective. "The Wounded Soldier" represented the Red Cross nurse in the heart of the battle taking care of a wounded soldier with charging soldiers immediately in the background.

The second tableaux was taken from a Harrison Fisher poster, "The Red Cross appeal." The Red Cross Nurse holds out her hands in supplication for world wide help in the fore ground, while in the rear are seen charging and wounded soldiers.

Mrs. West was lovely and picturesque in the role of the Red Cross Nurse and the boys who well assumed the khaki were Howard Davis, Wendell Hay, Hiram Hitchcock, Grove Davis, Selby Gerstner, Chester Steffy, Robert Tracey.

Four graceful young girls, Gayle Bowen, Dorothy Dick, Florence Bliss and Charlene Tharp, delighted the guests with the rhythmic movements of the Russian dances. They were admirably given under the training of Misses Pauline and Lucy Edna Pine.

The Misses Pine resembled two charming yellow butterflies in their beautiful fancy dances, grace in every motion.

The spot lights added greatly to both dances and tableaux.

Rev. David W. Barr, one of the government minute men made a four minute talk between dances that drew home with a pep that stilled the big crowd to hushed attention the strong statements made concerning war necessities.

Splendid music was furnished by Miss Mary Ellen Briggs and Walter Miller, James Hagerty and William Henry Edwards kindly assisted with euklele and banjo.

Mothers' Day was observed by the Staunton W. C. T. U. Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Grace Hoskins.

In the three readings, "The Gifted Mother, Mother's Day in Training Camp and Trenches, and "The Little Bow of White," a beautiful tribute was paid to mother.

Master John Stanforth delighted the guests with a cunning recitation "Muvver in the Garden."

Dorothy Hoskins and Helen Boyer played pretty piano solos.

Three interesting papers were read, and one new member was added to the Union.

The mite opening of the Home Guards Friday was very gratifying to the leader, Mrs. F. G. Carpenter.

Three of the girls deserve special mention, the total from their boxes being $4.70. The girls who have set this splendid example are Mary Foreman, Margaret Christopher and Ethelyn Morgan.

An honorary member sent one dollar, which came at a most opportune time.

The annual meeting and Hoover banquet will be held in June, after the pledge is fully met and all dues are in.

Mrs. Fred Coffman gave pleasurable entertainment to the G. R. C. Thursday afternoon.

The study of the lesson and short business session was followed by a social hour, in which the hostess served dainty refreshments.

Twelve members and one visitor were in attendance.

BLOOMINGBURG COMMENCEMENT NOTABLE EVENT

In keeping with the spirit of the times, as well as interesting for its own sake, was the carefully planned program of Commencement of Bloomingburg High School given at the Presbyterian Church of that village last evening.

The four graduates, Bernice Rodgers, Inez Cook, Leafy Murphy and Maud Cook, spoke on the following subjects: "Why We Are at War"; "Food Conservation"; "The Red Cross," and "Dickerling for Peace."

The first graduate to speak, Bernice Rodgers, spoke not only effectively but convincingly, of the much mooted question, "Why We Are at War." She outlined Prussia's "blood and iron" policy in building up the present Empire of Germany, showing her tyrannical measures in annexing first two unoffending provinces of Denmark, and later a portion of France; and also she spoke of how Prussia extended her iron hand over Austria, and the old South German States, until the present German Empire of dominant German militarism, a thing despised alike by freedom loving people of the old time Germany and by all nations of the earth who believe in a heritage of liberty, has been created. Since this extensive empire has been created, MIGHT not RIGHT has always been its watchword, and no nation may hope to enjoy "peace, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" until Germany is overcome and her erroneously inhuman policy is forever destroyed.

One of the foremost topics of the day, "Food Conservation," was very ably discussed by Inez Cook. We all know the necessity for food conservation, but possibly we are not fully aware of our own individual responsibility in this great movement. If the United States uses the same amount of wheat this year that she did last year, there will be a deficit of 4,000,000 bushels. This deficit can only be offset by saving, everyone's saving a small amount; for every tablespoonful, every cupful saved helps. The necessity for food conservation this year is extremely vital, since not only the allied armies, our own fighting men, the old men, the women and children of the Entente, need our food supplies, but also because we do not have, and can not hope to have, the same number of farm laborers to produce another crop. Surely, the innate patriotism of every man and woman of our beloved America ought to make them glad to do their part in keeping the "wolf from the door," and thus aiding Democracy to fulfill her destiny to the nations of the earth.

Of exceptional interest was Leafy Murphy's discussion of "The Red Cross." The Red Cross owes its origin indirectly to Florence Nightingale, who in 1854 during the Crimean War organized a group of nurses to relieve the suffering incident to that war. Witnessing her untiring efforts was a young Swiss, Henri Dunant, who having called together a council of representatives of fourteen nations at Geneva, Switzerland, organized the world famous "Red Cross Society." They chose for the emblem of this organization the Swiss colors, white and red, the red cross on a white field, and also they determined the motto of the Red Cross, "Humanity and neutrality." Now practically all civilized nations have not only recognized this organization, but have organized their own Red Cross society. However, America owes her affiliation in this work to Clara Barton, who went from America to Geneva purposely to find out about its work and to bring America into the organization. Her work was not soon accomplished, but after six years she successfully completed America's organization, and became in 1882 our first President of the American Red Cross. This office she held until 1914. Considering the wonderful work, the necessity for that work, and the opportunity for service which the Red Cross gives to all of us we are thrice blessed in this organization which makes life livable even in these most barbarous times of modern civilization's warfare.

To a world weary of war the question of the coming of peace is of great importance. Hence, it was with great interest that the ably given oration of Maud Cook, called "Dickerling for Peace," was extremely well received. Three peace proposals were spoken of—the first that of Germany in 1916, the second that of Pope Benedict XV in 1917, and the third that of six agricultural and industrial associations of Germany, proposed May 20, 1917. "Dickerling" was a carefully chosen word, since it was developed by the speaker how the Central Powers have had no real desire for peace, but have only longed for a truce in order to obtain time, a short respite from the strenuousness of war, in order to further prepare for the spread of German propaganda and Germany's inhuman policy of dominion.

Ex-Governor Willis gave the class address. He spoke of the pride which a teacher always feels in his pupils, remarking the fact that twenty years ago Fayette County's present Superintendent of Schools, Oliver Nelson, was a pupil of his. Then he showed how the policy of the world has always been molded by the young people. For example, of the 2,750,000 men enrolled in the Union army, there were 2,150,000 between the ages of twenty-two and fifteen; 1,150,000 of these were eighteen or under; 600,000 were sixteen or under; 105,000 were fifteen or under; 1,500 were fourteen or under; 300 were not yet thirteen; 225 were not yet twelve; 38 were eleven, and 25 were ten. Even as then our country was saved by our young people, so likewise must freedom be kept alive now by our young men and women.

Since "Ill fares the land to hastening ills a prey, Where wealth accumulates but men decay," we must extend our facilities and opportunities for education to our rural districts, so that we may offset the movement toward the city by a back-to-the-farm movement. There we do not have the large school buildings of the city, but we can and must have the equipment and sanitation for modern school buildings.

It has been the work of the public schools of America in her great melting pot to make of the foreign-born children, and the children of foreign-born parents, loyal, freedom-loving, patriotic sons and daughters of our great country. How well she has done this has been shown again and again. If the public schools did nothing more than foster and keep alive the dominant spirit of patriotism in the souls of all her children, regardless of race or creed, she would have done a necessary and great work. This she has done, toiling away while others were sleeping, unaware of the necessity of patriotism, not as a word, but as a motive and an inbred reality.

County Superintendent of Schools Oliver Nelson presented the diplomas. His remarks very ably emphasized the necessity for education, and the benefits derived from it all thru life not only to those educated but to all those with whom they associate.

The music of the evening, furnished by the Bloomingburg Orchestra, was extremely well received, and Bloomingburg should be and is proud of so capable an organization.

WILSON MAY SPEAK IN RED CROSS DRIVE

WAR WORK ACTIVITY

Wellesley Girls Raise $75,000 in Liberty Loan Drive.

Wellesley's May Day was celebrated this year with a surgical dressing drive. Every girl in the college spent the afternoon making surgical dressings and the result was that 20,500 were finished in half a day. The school prides itself on raising $75,000 in the last Liberty loan drive.

The girls in every one of the society halls at Wellesley have been engaged in some kind of war relief work all through the winter and spring. Last year, the college purchased and equipped an ambulance in memory of the late Frances Warren Pershing, General Pershing's wife, who, with her children, met a tragic death in the Presidio, San Francisco. Mrs. Pershing, who was the daughter of Senator Warren of Montana, was a graduate of Wellesley.

Women Are Advised Not To Cease Buying Clothes

Gertrude Lane, a woman whose editorial guidance is doing much to help the cause of America and her Allies through the medium of the wives and mothers in the home, is standing firmly back of the third Liberty loan.

The New York Evening Sun gives an interesting interview from which we call the following:

Mrs. Lane, perhaps the foremost businesswoman in the country, in a recent interview pointed out many ways in which the average woman can so order her expenditures as to be able to save money enough to buy a few extra Liberty Bonds of each issue. Miss Lane believes that the business women of country feel it a duty to answer the call for service and that they are striving to reorganize their mode of living to minimize their requirements. They must act quickly and carefully if they are to further the war to the utmost by supporting the Government war loan.

"I suppose every one of us who is saving for Liberty bonds must do her own thinking. My way of saving may not in the least fit the case of other women. It is for each woman an individual problem and each one of us will work it out in her own way."

"It has seemed to me fairest to economize in such a manner as to cause the least suffering to other human beings."

"For instance, I moved into a less expensive apartment last October and thus saved a considerable sum on my fixed expenses."

"I have reduced the amount of my food bills by setting a simpler table, wasting absolutely nothing and entertaining less often and less expensively."

"So far as buying clothes is concerned that seems to me to call for wisdom and sanity. I believe we can best serve the interests of our country by buying with an eye to the future and buying in our usual avenues of trade. When England declared war the first problem British women were confronted with was the problem of unemployment. Every one suddenly stopped buying. The businesses supported by women practically died over night. Working women were discharged by the thousands and no other form of work was ready for them. People had as much money as ever, but they were afraid to spend it."

"I think American women should avoid that mistake and let business readjust itself gradually, co-operating to the fullest extent the moment they are asked to help."

GERMAN KULTUR OF PUREST TYPE

(Associated Press Correspondence)

Paris, April 12.—The German long distance shell which struck a Maternity Hospital killing mothers by the side of their infants sent a shudder of horror through Paris which, since the hecatomb of Good Friday, thought it had become impervious to such an emotion. It also created confusion among the surviving mothers, some of whom have been unable to identify their offspring among the babies that escaped the shell of the assassin.

The projectile exploded in a dormitory containing twenty beds killing two mothers and one baby, wounding many others and completely wrecking the room. Through the cloud of dust and dirt, nurses and attendants rushed in and carried the wounded and women who were ill to another room, returning immediately for the infants. One baby had been thrown out of its cradle ten feet away but was quite unharmed. The babies were carried and deposited pell-mell on beds in a room quickly prepared to receive the patients so violently ejected by the German gun.
